Undulating Cascade

Undulating Cascade | Twilight

Undulating Cascade celebrates the beauty of woven cloth and the rhythmic process behind it. This piece is made to look like a mountain scape with the sun setting behind them. The varied shades of black, stone and pale pink twist together for a vibrating textured look.

Based on experimentation and material integrity, each tapestry is designed by our founder Brit Kleinman. They are all one of a kind and embrace a visible touch of the hand.

We welcome commissions of all scales including large site specific installations.
